Opening April 2022

Develop human resources who can play active roles in Japan based on the spirit of caring for others and making emotional connections

Educational Philosophy

To contribute to welfare, we aim to ensure that international students who wish to enter welfare fields, particularly those like nursing care, community symbiosis, and the environment, can learn Japanese language skills and will develop human resources who can respond to the unique values and customs of Japan with a Japanese mindset and a commitment to welfare

Message from the Principal of OSJ Japanese Language Academy Toyonaka

What would you say if asked you why you want to study in Japan?

It is no surprise that everyone studies in Japan for different reasons. On the other hand, there is one thing common among international students who study in Japan, and that is that studying in Japan leads to a successful career and life. Every one of them wants to be successful and to make their life better. So, what is necessary to do that? As the first step, it is important to learn Japanese and understand the differences in culture, customs, and ways of thinking between your country and Japan. Your success leads to social contributions even when you are not aware of them. We at OSJ Japanese Language Academy Toyonaka will help you take your first step toward success. The rest depends on your motivation .

Let's study together for your success!
